USS CARP—SS 338

USS CARP TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE AT K-BAY TOMORROW & SUN.

The submarine USS CARP will arrive at K-Bay today, and will be open for viewing by military personnel and dependents tomorrow and Sunday, it was announced by Lt. Col. Edward J. Doyle, MCAS S-3, this week.

The streamlined 311-foot "Fleet-snorkel" submarine will hold "open house" from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. both days at the pier adjacent to the crash boathouse.

Navy Supply 'IG' Conducted Here

The Navy Supply department at K-Bay is currently undergoing an "IG" inspection. Heading the inspection party is RADM J. B. Ricketts, Supply Corps, USN. Adm. Ricketts is the Inspector General of Supply Corps, USN, Pacific Coast.

Adm. Ricketts's inspection marks the first visit by an Inspector General (Navy) at K-Bay since its commissioning as a Marine installation, according to Cdr. William H. Peach III, Navy Supply Officer.

Kaneohe is inspected annually, by the District Supply Officer, 14th Naval District and is subject to periodic inspections by the Inspector General. The IG will be held in lieu of the annual District Inspection.

The seven man inspection party is expected to be at Kaneohe from March 7-12, according to Cdr. Peach.

SecNav Guests To Visit K-Bay

A group of civilian guests of the Secretary of the Navy will visit K-Bay on March 19, it was learned this week.

The group is expected to be briefed on the 1st Marine Brigade and the Marine Corps Air Station, have lunch and observe a live-firing demonstration on runway 18-36. Further details were not available at press time.

Inspection By IG Begins Wednesday; Team Arrives Tues.

Representatives of the Marine Corps Inspector General are expected to arrive at 11 p.m., Tuesday, at Pearl Harbor for the three-day inspection of the Kaneohe Bay Marine Corps Air Station, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Heading the inspector general's team is Col. Robert E. Hill, a former commander of the 4th Marines, and two-time winner of the Navy Cross. He will be accompanied by Lt. Col. Clyde H. Davis, Jr., and

It was not known at press time what categories of the Air Station they would inspect.

The inspection team is slated to confer at 1 p.m., Wednesday, March 13 prior to a conference with Col. Jack R. Cram, CO, MCAS, at 2 p.m. During the latter conference, details of the inspection will be given to inspectors and their counterparts on the staff of the Marine Corps Air Station.

The IG continues until 3 p.m., Friday when a critique will be held to determine the results of the inspection.

As previously announced, Col. Hill senior inspector, will conduct a general inspection of all aspects of the command, and a detailed See IG, P-8

1st Marine Brigade Command Change Scheduled in April

Brig. Gen. George R. E. Shell, commanding general, 1st Marine Brigade, FMF, will leave about April 1 for his new duties as commanding general of the Recruit Training Command, Parris Island, S. C., it was learned this week.

Gen. Shell, who assumed command of the air-ground Brigade last June was slated to leave the Islands in June of this year for his new assignment.

News of the change of plans and orders were received by the commanding general this week.

The change in plans also involves Col. Avery P. Kier who is slated to assume command of the Brigade. Col. Kier, who has been selected for brigadier general, is presently serving as Assistant commander of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in the Far East. He is now expected to arrive soon after April 1.

GEN. SHELL

Brig. Gen. Shell, a native of Virginia and graduate of Virginia Military Institute, class of '31, arrived in Hawaii from Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, in Norfolk, Va. Among the general's many duty assignments were tours in 1951-52 on the staff of the Supreme Commander, Allied Powers, Europe, and on the joint staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Col. Kier is a naval aviator, holder of the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service in World War II. Born in Gentry, Mo. in 1905, the colonel is a law graduate of the University of Kansas City and studied aeronautical engineering at the University of Minnesota. He was commissioned in 1930 and received his wings as a naval aviator a year later.

PREPARATION for "IG" next week has resulted in increased activity at MCAS. Above, a group of MCAS Marines go through the movements of eight-man squad drill under the expert tutelage of TSgt A. H. Don't Leave the Scene!

We have been asked by the Station Provost Marshal to reprint the excerpt below from the K-Bay Marine Corps Air Station regulations. It has to do with accidents. Recent incidents indicate that not everyone is familiar with the procedure for reporting an accident. Twice, during the past three weeks, personnel have left the scene of an accident without notifying the proper authorities; or if involved in an accident on-station, have moved their vehicles before traffic investigators arrived, thus complicating the task of determining responsibility. We think you should read the paragraph below. If you're never involved in an accident, you might still be in a position to render sound advice to someone who stopped before getting all the way through this article. The excerpt follows:

3004.11—Accidents, reporting of:

"The driver of any privately owned motor vehicle involved in an accident on the Station, resulting in damage to property or injury to any person, shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of the accident. He shall give his name, address, vehicle registration number, and exhibit his operator's license to the person struck, or the driver of the vehicle involved. He shall render immediate assistance to any person injured in such accident, including placing a call from the nearest telephone to the Station infirmary for an ambulance and medical assistance, if needed. The vehicle or vehicles involved shall not be moved until a Military Police Investigator so directs. He shall report such accident, immediately, direct to the Station Provost Marshal, or direct to the Station Officer of the Day, if such accident occurs after working hours."

News Item

"FT. KNOX, Ky (UP)—An Army trainee was fatally injured and two others were hurt when a 'dud' rifle grenade exploded after it was tossed in a wastebasket on a firing range here yesterday. Pvt. Billy Walters, 17, of Emma Ky., died four hours later of fragment wounds. Army authorities said Pvt. Walters picked up the grenade on the range."

This dispatch from Ft. Knox is proof that servicemen aren't killed only in wartime. Accidents take their toll of our Armed Forces and our civilian population with amazing regularity year after year.

Some accidents could not have been avoided. Most could have been with a little thought. In the second category belong most deaths and injuries by fire.

The one thing that will stop a fire before it starts is active prevention by all hands. Every day, all over the country and throughout the world, fires snuff out the lives of men, women and children. Yearly they destroy almost a billion dollars worth of property in the U. S. and put many persons out of work. They leave thousands injured and maimed.

Safety experts say nine out of 10 fires could be avoided by the observance of the simple rules of fire prevention. They are listed here with the hope you think enough of your life and your neighbor's to give them serious thought:

1. Don't smoke in bed.
2. Don't use flammable cleaning fluids.
3. Don't use frayed electric cords.
4. Don't let children play with matches.
5. Don't let junk accumulate.
6. Don't overload your wiring system.
7. Don't use ordinary extension cords on heaters and irons.
8. Don't be careless with cigarettes, cigars and pipes.

Income Tax

CORRECT LISTING OF ITEMS NECESSARY ON TAX FORMS

(This is the seventh of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants.)

It is important to know what to include and what not to include when filing your federal income tax. Look at this list and see if you can tell which should be listed on a tax return:

- Dividends from an insurance policy
- Social Security Benefits
- Gifts
- Payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.

The answer is that none of the above should be listed as taxable income. There are other forms of exempt income, too, which you will find listed in the official instruction book. Some of them are:

- Inheritances and bequests (the estate may be taxed but not the recipient).
- Railroad Retirement Act benefits
- Certain health and accident benefits
- Damages awarded by a court or paid out of court for personal injuries.
- Government payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except non-disability retirement pay and interest on terminal leave bonds.

If you won a prize, watch this fine distinction: the prize is taxable if you were required to exert even the slightest effort to earn it; on the other hand, if it was made Interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit with the Veterans Administration is no longer tax free.

Such interest earnings must be reported on 1956 tax forms, the Internal Revenue Service has ruled.

In recognition of scientific, literary or other achievement you would have performed anyway, the prize is considered a gift and you are not taxed on it.

Most scholarships and fellowships are exempt unless they are paid as compensation for services, such as teaching and research.

In figuring support for a dependent you do not have to count scholarships received by a student.

If you have an annuity from life insurance, pension plan or other source, the portion which you may receive tax-free depends on your life expectancy and the amount you paid for the annuity. The Internal Revenue Service will furnish actuarial tables upon request to help you figure this out.

Anyone who owns stock needs to know about the dividend exclusion and credit. This applies only to dividends from corporations which are subject to United States corporation income tax and does not include dividends from savings and loan associations, credit unions or foreign corporations.

Your first $50 of qualified dividends is tax free. Husband and wife are each entitled to exclude the first $50 for dividends on stocks that each owns.

If you received dividends beyond this amount, you are entitled to a "dividends received credit." This credit is four per cent of the remaining dividends, but it cannot be more than four per cent of your taxable income or more than the amount of tax otherwise due. The credit is not just a deduction from your taxable income—it is actually subtracted from your tax.

For example, if you received $550 in dividends, you can exclude $50 from your taxable income, and subtract four per cent of $500—or $20—from the tax you would otherwise pay. The last page of the tax form provides a schedule for figuring the amount of your credit.

The instruction book which comes with your tax forms gives further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. You are urged to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

the K-BAY KIBITZER

My desk calendar has a little note on it today that says "Character is not made in a crisis, it is only exhibited." This is a random thought that struck me as I started jotting down a few ideas for what could be a new column in the WINDWARD MARINE. I think this thought describes very accurately what we in the Marine Corps have always set as our goal and explains why we have never lost a battle. We have developed the character in training and exhibited it in war.

But let's get on to some general meandering. I saw the "Can Do" outfit, the SeaBees, in action again last Saturday when they built a mock-up island in Honolulu. They haven't changed since they first started doing the impossible in World War II. They erected a number of facilities and built an airstrip along Ala Moana boulevard in a matter of about five hours. Since the Marines and the CB's have always worked closely together, the Corps was invited to take part in this 15th anniversary celebration.

The first plane to land on the airstrip was, logically, a Marine helicopter from HMR-161. This created quite a stir and attracted additional spectators for the official ceremonies. I'm sure.

But a big hand is due the four Leathernecks who came charging out of the whirlybird before the dust had even settled. Cpl. Gerald R. Ross, Pfc. Weldon M. Shaw, Pfc. Gerald Thompson, and Pfc. Jimmy L. Pettet, a fire team from "G" Co., 3rd Bn., 4th Marines, moved so fast that by the time the dust had lifted, they were gone. They reappeared on a big lowboy truck as part of the guard for the giant birthday cake. They were on that truck for about one hour in the hot sun. In their camouflaged helmets and combat dress they looked the way the SeaBees usually see them.

In their serious expressions, their rigid, erect attitudes, they reflected the determination and unequalled training of Marines. As the truck was moved into position, as flashbulbs popped, as "Queen Bee" Mae Beames stepped up and cut the cake, the expressions never changed, the Marines never moved. Admirals Jelley and Olsen spoke and paid tribute to the Corps and its representatives. Even the eyes didn't move. I know, I watched.

After about an hour, it was over. But the Leathernecks had not been officially told to move. They stayed, immobile. An admiring SeaBee noticed this and had them secured. They climbed off the truck, put rifles on shoulders, and marched, in step, to the helicopter which whisked them back to K-Bay.

I can tell you, it makes a Marine proud to see this, mighty proud. It makes the SeaBees glad they asked us and proud that they are part of the same team. And it proves again to the spectators both the versatility and the training that characterize the Corps. What more can you ask?

On another subject, have you noticed the "winter" weather? To some it probably feels good to have a little 65 degree chill in the air in the mornings. To the kamaainas, it's too cold. But all you have to do is read your hometown temperature on the mainland to realize we've got it made.

Perhaps you hadn't heard, but two representatives of 20th Century-Fox have been around K-Bay lately sizing up the scenery for possible locations if the green light is forthcoming for the filming of "South Pacific". Seems possible that some of the local scenery might be recognized on the silver screen by those who've pulled a tour here. Since Marines are depicted in the picture, which has a WWII setting, some of the current Leathernecks may get in the act. One thing that's certain, it's possible to do wonders with a good camera angle and a few palm trees. GBS.

HIGH AVERAGE—SSgt. Arthur G. Clark, "E" Co., 2nd Bn., 4th Marines, is congratulated by regimental commanding officer, Col. Bryghte D. Godbold, for attaining high average in the Second Annual Basic Operational Intelligence course concluded last Friday. The overall class average was 81.00, Clark attained 86.68. The poster in the background depicts a class exercise titled "Operation Hula Girl." A planning exercise, the operation provided a test of the procedures and techniques learned in the school by the 27 students.

Second Annual Intelligence Course Graduates Class of 27 Leathernecks

By SGT. R. L. SMITH

Twenty-seven Leathernecks from the 4th Marines were graduated last Friday at K-Bay from the Second Annual Basic Operational Intelligence course in ceremonies conducted by 1st Lt. Dan J. Lytle, school director.

Col. Bryghte D. Godbold, 4th Marines commanding officer, was guest speaker at the graduation exercise.

The course, originated last July as a 4th Marines "first," is unique because it is designed wholly for the training of enlisted intelligence personnel below the rank of staff NCO. While it is not an advanced course, it furthers the training of the average Marine reporting into the intelligence field by providing him with the basic principles and various techniques of the intelligence staff in an amphibious operation.

At the completion of last year's two weeks of schooling, a syllabus of the course was forwarded to FMFPac for study and review. On Jan. 31, the outlined course was published, word for word, in an official order and given wide unit distribution.

As a result of the order, a representative of Schofield's 25th Division visited K-Bay last Wednesday to thoroughly study the course outline in order to organize the same type of training.

Instruction for this enlisted course is handled by staff NCO's and officers during the first week, and includes such subjects as intelligence, counter-intelligence, air intelligence, review of map and aerial photo reading, basic principles of amphibious operations, study of weather and terrain, and intelligence SOP.

At the beginning of the second week, the class just graduated was broken into five groups and assigned a mission called "Operation Hula Girl." Each of the groups contained an acting regimental intelligence officer and his staff. They were required to meet a mythical situation as an actuality and handle it accordingly, from the ship departure through beachhead establishment. This included the collecting of information, processing and recording, and the final step of disseminating and handling usable intelligence.

During the past school session, invitations were sent to members of the local Marine Reserve unit, the 15th Infantry Bn.

Although originally planned as an annual affair, the course probably will be held again later in the year.

DRIVER OF MONTH—Pfc. Gregorio D. Williams, "I" Btry., 3rd Bn., 12th Marines, receives the red and gold "Driver of the Month" plate from Lt. Col. James P. Rathbun, battalion commanding officer. Williams won the award for his driving record during the month of February. The Driver of the Month is determined from the results of a series of tests, written and driving. In competition with 75 other vehicle drivers, he obtained the highest average of 96.85.

BRIGADE CG LAUDS COMBAT REVIEW

CG's Message To Brigade

"Combat Review of 1 March outstanding success which once again demonstrated highest level of training and spirit of all participants. Condition of vehicles, aircraft, equipment and smartness, precision of troop units source of great pride to Brigade commander and evoked highest praise from Commander, FMFPac. Heartiest thanks and appreciation. Brig. Gen. Shell sends."

COMBAT REVIEW—1st Marine Brigade, FMF, power was amply displayed last Friday on runway 18-36, in a combat review for Lt. Gen. Edwin A. Pollock, commanding general, Fleet Marine Force, Pacific, reviewing officer. Upper right, an element of the mounted review moves by the reviewing stand. Three battalions of Leathernecks were mounted in three-quarter ton and six by six trucks, and DUKW's. They sat erectly at attention with fixed bayonets. Upper left, Brig. Gen. G. R. E. Shell, Brigade CG, and Gen. Pollock observe the approaching fly-by of helicopters of HMR-161. The 'choppers came by the stand below a 300 foot altitude. Fixed wing aircraft of Marine Aircraft Group-13, in formation, zoomed over as the helicopters went by. Center, Gen. Shell, left, and Gen. Pollock, troop the line of personnel and equipment in a jeep.

Lower right, One of each type of aircraft was towed in review. An F9F "Panther" jet, towed by a "mule" moves past the reviewing officer. Lower left, heavy equipment of service elements of the Brigade was much in evidence. A heavy "cat," crane, and other construction equipment was included in the column that streamed by the spectator-filled stands for 40 minutes. Approximately 6,000 Marines in utility uniforms with steel helmets and light marching packs, with Battalions displaying 18-man fronts, were led by the Pearl Harbor Marine Barracks band and the Brigade Drum and Bugle Corps. Distinguished visitors witnessing the review included Fleet Admiral William Leahy and ranking officers of all services.

VMF - 232 Aviators Like New Aircraft

By SGT. NORM EDLAND

Transformation from the old to the new sometimes involves more than a casual viewer can imagine. The arrival of VMF-232's new FJ4 "Fury" jets, the latest addition to the powerful air-ground team of the 1st Marine Brigade, involved much more than just "landing" at K-Bay.

The aircraft made the long trip from the mainland via Navy aircraft carriers. Once unloaded at Ford Island, near Pearl Harbor, they were flown by two's and four's to K-Bay for duty with the fighter squadron. The Bureau of Aeronautics took the old FJ2's. They will be sent to the nearest Navy overhaul area, and then released for duty once more, possibly with a Reserve Training Command.

The new supersonic jet planes, while much faster than the old FJ2's, are basically the same. To familiarize all pilots and mechanics with the few differences, BuAer has equipped the squadron with a Mobile trainer called the Namotrainer. Everyone coming into contact with the $500,000 plane receives this training before either working with or flying the new aircraft.

Powered by a Wright J-65 engine, the plane has speeds in excess of 650 m.p.h. This jet engine produces a fantastic 7700 pounds of thrust. A squadron spokesman explained how that can be compared to horsepower in this way: When the plane is flying 350 m.p.h., and at only that speed, the engine is producing the equivalent of 7700 horsepower.

The FJ4 weighs 19,000 pounds when loaded with fuel and ready for flight. Plane weight and fuel left in the tanks are extremely important to the pilot when landing. Landing speed is determined by these factors, and too much fuel in the tank can be disastrous if he lands too fast or too slow. Normally, the "Fury" lands at approximately 150 m.p.h.

Unlike the old propeller-driven planes, approximately eight hours of maintenance is required for every hour of flight. VMF-232 mechanics have been working long, hard hours to keep the new jets airborne and functioning properly.

The climax of their work and an indication of their outstanding contribution in the tremendous transformation from the "the old to the new" was vividly illustrated last week when a total of 16 new FJ4's were airborne in the same formation simultaneously. Those sixteen planes, flying for one hour, represented 148 man-hours by the squadron's mechanics.

As anyone associated with aviation will say, fighter squadron pilots are naturally and normally "cocky". They are taught to be aggressive, just as the basic Marine Corps infantryman is. That is their creed. "Aggressiveness", said one 232 pilot, "has helped American fighter pilots to outfight enemy pilots of comparable skill in supposedly better planes on many occasions."

The pilots are confident, and they realize that they are flying a superior jet aircraft. As one of them said, "The FJ4 resembles the replaced FJ2 enough so that we're not having any trouble adapting ourselves to it . . . the difference between them is like comparing the old '03 with the M-1." An infantryman will immediately grasp the feeling of security that these pilots have in themselves and their planes with those few words.

Former HMR-161 Pilot Assigned to Carrier

Maj. Paul F. Bent, formerly a pilot with HMR-161 during the Korean War, has been named the new Air Operations Officer of the helicopter assault carrier USS THETIS BAY, according to THE BLADE of MCAF Santa Ana.

Maj. Bent, who will be the first Marine officer to be assigned as an Air Operations Officer for a helicopter assault carrier, flew with HMX-1 at Quantico, Va. in 1952.

As the first Marine to receive this assignment, Maj. Bent will help formulate the policies to be followed by Marine officers who will be assigned to similar posts in the future.

Molokai Maneuvers Set for Members Of "A" Co. 1st Bn.

"A" Co., 1st Bn., 4th Marines, will embark for a five-day training exercise on Molokai, to highlight training in the regiment during the coming week.

Two R4D transport aircraft of MAG-13 and MCAS will carry the combat-laden Marines to the maneuver area on Molokai ranch property.

When "A" Company returns, "B" Company will undergo similar training on Molokai.

Marines in garrison, during the coming week will receive training in basic military subjects with lectures, classes, and actual demonstrations. Companies will maneuver in the Fort Hase training area for squad and platoon tactics.

A lecture on the subject of "Atomic Fire Support" will be given to officers and staff NCO's in the station theater on Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. by Maj. Corbin J. Johnson. Personnel attending the lecture must have a "secret" clearance classification.

Going Places

Theater Schedule and Review

By MSGT FRANK FORSYTH

Two shows nightly—5:45 p.m. and 8 p.m. at both Main Theater and 4th Marines. Movies at 4th Marines Theater are one day later than scheduled below.

TONIGHT . . . HOT BLOOD

Cornel Wilde and Jane Russell
Story of a dying Gypsy king who seeks to groom his hot-blooded resentful brother for the succession.

RATING . . . GOOD. We have more variety this week than a country grocery store . . . culture for them that likes it, talent show for those with talent and just plain movies for the rest of us ungifted ones.

SATURDAY . . . "AMPHITRYON 38"—Stage Show
This play was recently presented at the Hawaiian Village Long House. If the reception of this play is great enough, there is the possibility that we may have more of the same in the future.

NOTE . . . The afternoon show will be 12 O'CLOCK HIGH.

SUNDAY . . . FRIENDLY PERSUASION

Gary Cooper and Dorothy McGuire
Attention is focused on a Quaker family and its moment of crisis when caught in the backwash of the Civil War.

RATING . . . EXCELLENT. We quote from a newspaper article. "Those of us who have grown understandably weary of the grotesque wriggling of — and the sordid studies of mental twists and psychoses, find this film a gentle breeze and a refreshing zephyr" . . . End quote. . . Nuff said.

MONDAY . . . A CRY IN THE NIGHT and THE AMAZON TRADER

The first is a crime drama and the second could be about anything. One thing is certain . . . it's a crime that we got stuck with them.

RATING . . . WE PASS. We have heard the old saying many times. . . Double or Nothing. In this case we will take nothing.

TUESDAY . . . BLONDE BAIT and TWO GUNS AND A BADGE

No information available on either cast.
The first is British made and the second is a home grown product.

RATING . . . OH, NO, NOT TWO DAYS IN A ROW. The first movie is one Bundle from Britain that we could have done without.

WEDNESDAY . . . THE FASTEST GUN ALIVE

Glenn Ford and Jeanne Crain
Gunman rides into town boasting that he is "the fastest gun alive." The village storekeeper, an ex-gunman, keeps his past secret until forced into a duel with the stranger. You take it from there.

RATING . . . VERY GOOD. It took us two days and four stinkers to get to this one but it was worth the wait. Stage show at the RCT.

THURSDAY . . . D-DAY THE SIXTH OF JUNE

Robert Taylor and Dana Wynter
A World War II triangle romance in which an English girl is torn between her love for a British officer and her attraction to a married American officer.

RATING . . . GOOD. It would seem that Buzz-Bombs were not the only thing buzzing in England during World War II.

MARINE CAGERS TRIUMPH AT HILO SHRINE TOURNEY

By PVT. DAN STUPKA

The Hawaii Marines topped the Army's 25th Division All-Stars last Saturday night by a score of 92-75 to walk off with first place honors at the Hilo Shrine Tournament which ran from Feb. 28 through March 2. The Scarlet and Gold scored three successive triumphs during the single elimination tourney to boost their season's record to an impressive 28-3 mark.

The tremendous team effort which defeated the Army in the finals culminated a three-day tournament which found the 'Necks running roughshod over a local team, Keaukaha, in the quarter-finals to the tune of 105-51 and then coming from behind to subdue a stubborn ComServPac aggregation in the semi-finals by a three point margin, 74-71.

The Marine-Army clash, the first meeting of the two powerful service quintets this season, climaxed the Shriner's tourney which previous to this year had been open only to high schools from the Territory. With Army's tight defense repeatedly stopping the Marine's vaunted fast-break the game settled down to a tight scoring duel with the 'Necks finally pulling away to a substantial lead late in the first half which the Schofield crew never headed. Stellar defensive work as well as a potent offensive demonstrated to the capacity crowd of 4,000 the ability of the Marines to play a good "tight" ball game as well as their usual "wide open" type game.

Scoring found the Marine attack well balanced with forward Ben Stewart leading the way with a total of 59 points for the three games for a 19 point game average. He was closely followed by Schutts and Perry with games averages of 18 and 17 points, respectively. The valuable rebounding department was headed by center Ted Henderson and Al Schutts with able assistance given by Stewart, Kellar, Mitchell, and Earnest, the latter playing his usual outstanding defensive game. Playmaker Ron Perry repeatedly set up the Marine attack with pinpoint passing.

and supporter. Other loyal Marine support was ably provided by the Kaneohe Staff NCO's who attended all three games in force and whose "Army Burial" ceremony before the final tilt highlighted pre-games festivities.

The high riding Leathernecks, currently the hottest service quintet in the islands, left for the Mainland March 7 where they will compete in the All-Marine Tournament. San Diego is host base for this year's All-Marine which is slated to begin Tuesday, March 12.

Adm. Solomons Day At Klipper Course

Rear Adm. E. A. Solomons, Commander Service Forces, Pacific Fleet, will head a party of 16 Navy golfers from ComServPac, who will compete with K-Bay Marines here tomorrow in the "Adm Solomons Day" golf tournament.

Arranged in honor of Adm. Solomons, the tourney is open to all interested golfers and everyone is welcome to attend.

The 18 hole medal play, straight handicap tournament is slated to begin at 8 a.m. with entries closing at 1 p.m. Adm. Solomons will tee off shortly after noon, it was reported.

Trophies and prizes will be presented to the winners in the club house at the conclusion of the tournament.

The Adm. Solomons Day tourney is the second this year to honor a Navy admiral at the Kaneohe Klipper course. Adm. C. E. Olson, Commandant of the 14th Naval District, was honored in January

If it's news, call the WINDWARD MARINE at 72104.

Canine Scholars Graduate Sunday

Kaneohe's first educated canines will receive their "diplomas" Sunday afternoon, and a new dog training class will begin the following Sunday.

The obedience training class will "graduate" following a competition between dogs at the regular 4:30 p.m. class Sunday on the field behind the Station Training Bldg., according to MSgt. Jim Beddoe, who has conducted the 12 week course.

The dogs will demonstrate what they have learned in three months of intensive basic training in heeling on leash, sitting and lying on command and other fundamentals.

Obedience certificates will be awarded the owners.

Persons interested in joining the new class that will begin Sunday, March 17, may contact MSgt. Beddoe at 72654.

OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB

Military personnel who are interested in organizing a Kaneohe Marine Outrigger Canoe Club for the purpose of representing the Hawaii Marines in Territorial Canoe Association competition, are invited to attend a meeting next Thursday in Bldg. 1092. The meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m.

Purpose of this first meeting is to chart organizational procedure and discuss plans for the Territorial Canoe racing season which opens in May. Information may be obtained from Sgt. Sam Kaninai at 72720 or 72884.

3d Bn., 4th Marines Cage Quintet Upsets 3d Bn., 12th in I-S Contest

Game of the week in the Intra-Station basketball circuit was last Tuesday when the 3d Bn., 12th Marines Cannoneers were upset by the 3d Bn., 4th Marines cagers 67-60. They retained their first place position because their season rivals, the 1st Bn., 4th Marines, were upset earlier the same evening.

Wednesday, Feb. 27

The MAG-13 Champions took a close one from Hq&HqSq, MCAS 71-68. Although Gerald Cochran led the MAG team with 22 points it was the nine vital points in the closing minutes of the first half by Juan Velasco that kept Hq&HqSq from pulling ahead. The half ended with the score tied 34 all. Jack Mayberry, always in top form, led the Station team with 16 points.

Working for the first place slot, 1st Bn., 4th Marines downed the MAG-13 All Stars 95-52. High point honors were split by Robert Lincoln and Walter Fillin-game with 16 apiece for the 1st Bn., 4th Marines. Top man points wise for the All Stars was Roy Peoples with 18.

Thursday, Feb. 29

The cagers of 2d Bn., 4th Marines tried hard for a new I-S record but fell short by one goal in a tilt with Hq Bn., 1st Marine Brigade. Final outcome of the game was a 100-65 score. Ron Jackson tallied 32 points for 2d Bn., 4th Marines; Richard Francis led Hq Bn., 1st Marine Brigade with 16.

The 3d Bn., 4th Marines edged Hq Bn., 4th Marines 62-58. Slats Slaughter totaled 19 for the victors and the men on the short end were led by Joe Blencoe who had 22.

Rolling on their road to the championship, 3d Bn., 12 Marines took Hq Bn., 4th Marines 66-37.

Monday, March 4

In the match between the two MAG-13 teams, the Champions proved to be the better ball club by defeating the All Stars 68-51. George Spellman led the Champs with 18 points and Robert Davidson was high scorer for the All Star aggregation with 12.

Marines Qualify in Most Events At Trials; Finals Begin Tonight

Tow-headed Bob Kenny of the varsity swim squad, eclipsed his own 1956 Hawaii Marine record for the 100 yard breast stroke last Saturday as he churned the University of Hawaii tank in 1:12.1 during the 9th Annual Rainbow Meet trials. The record earned him top qualifying spot in the finals which are slated tonight and tomorrow afternoon.

Led by Coach Ivar Svenson, Kenny and his mates of the Marine swimming and diving team qualified in eight of 10 swimming events and both diving events. They failed to qualify in only the 100 and 220 yard back stroke.

Kenny proved himself to be the standout of the trials by qualifying in four individual events and the medley relay.

The Rainbow Meet finals will be held at 7 p.m. tonight and tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the University of Hawaii pool.

New swimmers Rob Art and John Manion turned in good performances in the 100 and 220 yard freestyle and the freestyle relay which, according to Capt. Ivar Svenson, swimmer-coach of the team, puts the team in a position to place high in the meet. Skeets Shimizu was also a qualifier in the 220 freestyle trials. The 400 yard freestyle relay will feature Art, John Baruch, Manion, and Dan Pukahi. In the 440 yard freestyle, the long swim of the meet, the Leatherneck aquamen will be represented by Shimizu.

The 200 yard Individual medley required no trials. Kenny will be the Marine swimmer in this event also.

Breast stroking in both events, the 220 and 100 yard swim, will be handled by Coach Svenson and Kenny, Bill Austin, Svenson, and Baruch are the Marine hopes for the 400 yard medley relay.

In the 100 yard butterfly swim, another no-trial event, Ed Long and Kenny will be featured.

Diving chores for the meet will be handled by Reg Ridgley, Ted Bodnar, Red Healy, and Walt Bruderer. Ridgley will be battling Wally Nakamoto for first place in both events. Nakamoto is the University of Hawaii star and defending champion.

The showing of the swimmers and divers was far above expectations considering they have only been working out for four weeks. Coach Svenson said. He further stated that Austin and Allan Wakinekona gave very good performances and that both should place in future events. Woody Prescott is also showing steady improvement in the back stroke and Coach Svenson is looking forward to some points from this source in coming meets.

On the eve of the finals, Marine mentor Svenson said that the perennial champion, the Hawaii Swim Club, is the favorite for first place in the meet, but the battle for second will be a close race between the Hawaii Marines, Palama Swim Club, University of Hawaii, and the Punahou Swim Club.

Price of admission to both sessions of the Rainbow Meet swim finals is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. This is a reduction in price from the admission charged last year, according to reports.

I-S Cage Tourney Slated next Week

The Hawaii Marine Intra-Mural basketball championship will be decided next week when the winning team in K-Bay's Intra-Station hoop circuit battles it out in a best of three series with the top team in Camp Smith's I-S cage program.

Camp Smith will host the first game of the series next Wednesday night, with the second game scheduled at Kaneohe's Hangar 103 Tuesday evening, March 14. Starting time for both games will be 7 p.m.

Location of the third game of the series, if a third game is necessary, has not been announced at press time.

K-Bay Pistoleers Top Police Match

The Kaneohe Marine Pistol team garnered top honors in the Master, Sharpshooter, and Marksmanship divisions at the monthly Honolulu Police Match on the Ala Moana range last weekend.

Firing the .22, .38 and .45 caliber national match courses, the 16-man Marine team outclassed approximately 50 service and civilian shooters to take first place in three of four competing classes.

The Kaneohe Leathernecks placed one, two, three in the Master class. Bill Eubank hit 2566 of 2700 possible to lead all competition, Don McClure placed second with 2543, and Mike Pietreforte registered 2544 for third.

In the Sharpshooter class a score of 2426 of 2700 possible earned K-Bay's J. J. Lee first place and R. G. Breshers tallied 2319 for first place in the Marksmanship class.

The Kaneohe Marines are slated to compete this weekend in the Major Commander Pistol Matches at Schofield, it was reported.

A two day match, it is hosted by the 25th Infantry Division and will be limited to competition by service personnel. Individual competition is slated for tomorrow with team firing scheduled Sunday, March 10.

It is expected that 15 members of the Kaneohe pistol team will compete in the event.

Hq Bn., 1st Marine Brigade hit the hoop for 76 counters while holding Hq&HqSq, MCAS to 69. Roger Gardner took scoring honors for the Hq Bn team and Jack Mayberry and Clovis Glenn were the pace setters for Hq&HqSq with 15 each.

Tuesday, March 5

Opening the evenings' play, Serv Bn., 1st Marine Brigade upset 1st Bn., 4th Marines 45-43. At the end of the half, Serv Bn led 20-15. The sparkplug for Serv Bn was Kenneth Dillard with 22 counters. Jerry Harris led 1st Bn., 4th Marines with 17.

Don Humphreys hit the hoop for 21 to lead Hq Bn.

Hawaiian Area Bowling Tourney

The All-Marine Hawaii Bowling tournament for men will be held at the Camp Smith alleys three days this month, beginning at 1 p.m. daily. The tourney is slated to begin March 18 and will continue through the 20th.

A singles event, the tournament will consist of 15 games for each contestant, with the winner determined by highest pinfall on the total games. No handicaps are authorized for the roll-offs and each contestant is required to have an accredited American Bowling Congress average of 170 or better. This average must be certified by local commanding officers.

The contestants with the highest total pinfall will be Hawaii's representative in the All-Marine Bowling Championships at San Diego, MCRD, beginning April 9. Last year, four Kaneohe Marines won spots on the AlMar kiegling team from the Hawaiian area.

Rosters of entries must be sent to the Force Special Services Officer, Headquarters, FMFPac before March 11. Additional information is available in FMFPac Bulletin 1710.

AKU-MARINES

A combined spear fishing contest and underwater treasure hunt is being planned for the last part of March and the first half of April. Several trophies and prizes are in the offing, as well as all the fun and good sport that contestants always enjoy from such meets.

Although the champion spear fishermen of 1956, Dave Cooke, Larry Windley, Tommy Tinker, and others have gone the way of permanent change of station, a newer group of divers is rapidly moving up to make record catches. With an arena as large as the ocean, anybody can come out with an award winning specimen.

Lt. Hancock Wins Aina Haina Shoot

Kaneohe's Shootin' Dentist, Lt. Chuck Hancock (DC), USN, won top honors at the Kulioaou Gun Club's shoot at Aina Haina Sunday afternoon. Dr. Hancock walked off with the match champion's trophy with a perfect 50x50 score.

Dr. Hancock's win was a close one over SSgt. Billy Hicks, of the Pearl Harbor Marine Barracks. Tied with perfect scores after the first 50 birds, Hancock outshot Hicks by only one point on a 25 bird shoot-off.

During the same match, TSgt. Ray Garrison slugged it out with two other doctors to walk off with the Class "A" trophy.

Garrison, Cdr. E. G. Goodman, 1st Marine Brigade Surgeon, and Dr. Wilson of Honolulu tied with near perfect scores of 49x50. In the first shoot-off, Dr. Wilson dropped out with three misses. Dr. Goodman and TSgt. Garrison both shot perfect 25x25 scores. On the next round the again tied at 24x24. The third time, Garrison fired a perfect score to nose out Dr. Goodman by one point.

VMP-232's Lt. Bill Franklin copped the Class "C" trophy with a 47x50 score. Franklin also had to take a 25-bird shootoff to win.

Other Kaneohe skeetmen who fired in the match and their scores are: Capt. Leonard Hitchcox, 47x50; TSgt. Johnny Johnson, 46x50 and Capt. Ken Wygal, 43x50.

ROD and GUN CLUB

By MSGT ROY G. CARBINE

Probably one of most exciting near-catches in recent months was made last Sunday when a Honolulu friend skin diving with Msgr. Shorty Fenn lost a terrific undersea battle with an ulua estimated to weigh 75 pounds.

Shorty, Cpl. Gerald Hemming and Kenney Suehiro of Honolulu were fishing at the 50-foot level two miles off Chinaman's Hat Island, landmark on the far side of Kay-Bay.

While Shorty and Hemming were working with a large parrot fish some 20 feet away, Suehiro speared another ulu. As he swam toward his catch, the murky water was darkened further by a large shadow that glided silently by him.

Startled and afraid it might be a shark, Suehiro quickly disengaged his spear and reloaded his spear gun. He then recognized the shadow as a large ulua, intent on the wounded parrot fish.

While he watched, fascinated, the larger fish grabbed the wounded ulu, and Suehiro had the weird sensation of actually hearing the larger fish munching on the smaller one—fifty feet under water!

Waiting for a good shot, Suehiro finally placed one on the huge fish, just behind the eyes—and the battle was on. Grabbing the protruding end of the spear, the diver hung on while the big fish frantically lunged around and around. Suehiro became dizzy and nauseated from the struggle, but still clung blindly to the spear.

After a bitter 20 minute struggle, in which Suehiro even tried to grab the ulua's tail to stop its rapid circling, the mighty fish broke loose from the spear, and the diver had to surface.

Shorty and Hemming found him in the boat, physically exhausted and sick at heart. And Fenn "felt for him". After diving for two years and never having such an opportunity, Shorty felt a vicarious sadness at his friend's loss!

Ah, well, fortunes of the game!

Let's see a good turn out of all members at the Wednesday night meeting at the Clubhouse. And bring a friend. Interested persons who are not members are urged to attend, also. The Rod and Gun Clubhouse, opposite the Crashboat house. An interesting program has been planned.

While one hears little about it, here in the middle of the Pacific and a salt water fisherman's paradise, there are spots in the Islands where the fresh water fly casting is good. One of them is the Wahiawa reservoir, here on Oahu.

Take for instance the catch last Monday of TSgt. Ray Garrison, who is most frequently heard of for his shotgun ability, and the Rev. Alton Traywick of Kailua.

Garrison and Rev. Traywick spent the day on the reservoir, and according to them, "the lake is one of the best I ever fished in, and the possibilities for boat fishing are wonderful."

The sergeant and the minister caught seven fine large mouth bass that totaled a little better than 26 pounds, averaged better than three pounds each. And all caught by fly casting.

A large mouth, when he strikes, will usually head for the nearest cover, and many an angler has gnashed his teeth when a line fouled or rushes and he lost both fish and fly.

According to Garrison, that sort of thing is impossible at the Wahiawa lake. Only place Mr. Bass can head is for open water.

And that makes for ideal fishing.

Don't forget the meeting Wednesday night, now.

LFTU to Conduct Loading Classes For 1stMarBrig

An Embarkation and Transport Loading school will be conducted at K-Bay by the Landing Force Training Unit, Pacific, during the period of March 11-30, according to Brigade Order 1500.9 published Wednesday.

Training will be designed to emphasize embarkation and transport loading of aviation units and will include embarkation of an aircraft group in amphibious and combatant shipping, and embarkation of helicopter units and helicopter-lifted units aboard aircraft carriers.

The Brigade Order establishes quotas for Brigade units.

Girl Scout Week Banquet Slated

Girl Scout Week will be observed by green and brown clad girls over the Nation next week in honor of the young ladies, who may hold "tomorrow's future".

Church services on March 10 will be attended by the various troops of Girl Scouts and Brownies as units in uniform.

At K-Bay on March 18, a special Girl Scout and Brownie Father-Daughter Banquet will be given at the Commissioned Officers Mess (Open) patio. All military personnel based aboard MCAS Kaneohe who have daughters active in either the MCAS Girl Scout or Brownie troops are invited to attend with their daughters. There will be no cost to the individual father; expense of this banquet will be borne by the sponsors.

The banquet will start at 6 p.m. Fathers may wear aloha shirts and daughters are encouraged to wear their Girl Scout or Brownie uniforms.

Brig. Gen. George R. E. Shell, commanding general, 1st Marine Brigade, and Col. Jack R. Cram, commanding officer, MCAS, will be guests at the banquet.

NEW MCI COURSE

The Marine Corps Institute has opened for enrollment a course in ELEMENTS OF ELECTRONICS I (27.4), which covers basic electronics and electricity, that will serve as a springboard for advancement in OF 27. All personnel in any MOS in OF 27 can benefit from the material presented. In order to enroll in this course a fundamental knowledge of algebra is necessary.

'DIMES' HEAD SAYS THANKS FOR SUPPORT

The gratitude of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was expressed recently in a letter from Warren S. Titus, Oahu Campaign chairman to Brig. Gen. George R. E. Shell, 1st Marine Brigade commanding general. The letter reads as follows:

"I wish to convey my sincere gratitude for the gracious support given by you and your men in the 1957 March of Dimes campaign. I am extremely appreciative for the assistance given us during our thirteen hour Poliothon project over KONA-TV.

"I would like to make special note of the exceptional service given by some of the men under your command at Kaneohe Marine Air Station: Major W. M. Rossiter; Capt. Glenn B. Stevens; Lt. Frederick D. Stice; Lt. Charles L. Booth; Sgt. Leland V. Sims, Jr.; and the Brigade Drum and Bugle Corps.

"I know there are many more of your men whose names we do not have that contributed in making this year's campaign a success, and we are extremely grateful to you and them."

MARINE CORPS POP-UP TARGET MAKES DEBUT

"The Pop-up", an electronically controlled combat marksmanship target for small arms, will go into service at three Marine Corps installations this summer. Headquarters Marine Corps announced recently.

The new training device, consisting of a silhouette target, actuating mechanism, and an electronic control panel, can be put in position by one Marine.

In use, the target may be set up out of sight of the Marine being trained. An operator at a control panel out of sight of the trainee can then make the target appear suddenly in the view of the shooter. When a shooter fires upon it and scores a hit, the impulse of the bullet on the silhouette lowers the target to the horizontal position and records the hit on the control panel. The operator at the panel may then reset the target in its original position by remote control.

Early development of the device was conducted at Camp Pendleton, Calif. in 1953 with the assistance of the San Diego Regional Office of the Navy Training Devices Center. Later the project was placed in the hands of the Navy Training Devices Center, Port Washington, Long Island, N. Y., where final development was completed.

"The Pop-up" is weatherproof and transportable, and thus may be left in the open in a permanent installation or if desired may be moved from place to place.

Policy for Off-Base Personnel During Emergency Told

Military personnel, in or out of uniform, will be permitted to move to their duty station during civil defense emergency conditions upon the presentation of a valid Armed Forces Identification Card.

This information is contained in Station Order 5080.1A published recently.

According to the order, the Federal Civil Defense Administration has issued instructions to state and local civil defense directors to carry out the provisions of the stated policy.

Presentation of military identification will authorize movement of both military personnel and the vehicle carrying them.

This policy is construed as being applicable to Navy and Marine Corps Reservists enroute to their mobilization or mustering points upon being called to active duty during an emergency situation.

Transmitter Bought By 'Ham' Station; Resumes Operation

A Special Services spokesman this week announced the purchase of a new 1000 watt transmitter for the K-Bay Ham Radio station and the resumption of normal operating hours. Calls to the mainland may now be made Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The new transmitter was purchased from the Kaimuki Radio station in Honolulu for $2,095. The old unit, built by TSgt. Charles Cameron and CWO Creighton will be overhauled, placed on a different frequency band, and used by the Ham station. It contains the same power as the newly acquired unit.

The new transmitter, located in Bldg. 256, went into operation last Thursday, and is powerful enough to make contact with any country in the world. Its primary function is use by military personnel and their dependents stationed at K-Bay.

Calls of an emergency nature can be made anytime, day or night. Contact TSgt. Max Oribler, 72997, during working hours, or 73361 after 4 p.m.

Lohsen Commended At 1st Bn. CO's Mast

MSgt. Roger G. Lohsen, 1st Bn., 4th Marines, was cited Wednesday in a surprise meritorious mast by Maj. Franklin J. Harte, battalion commander.

The citation commending Lohsen read, in part: "Through your continuous efforts, the methods and techniques within the S-3 Section have been improved to such an extent as to greatly influence the overall efficiency of the organization. You have also made significant progress in simplifying lengthy procedures of planning, preparation, record keeping and filing."

IS YOUR NSLI ON WAIVER? CHECK TODAY!

Marine personnel still carrying National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI) term and permanent plan policies under waiver of premiums are warned by Marine Corps Bulletin 1740 of March 1, that to continue to do so after May 1, 1957, could result in obtaining fewer benefits from the Veterans Administration in case of death.

Generally, benefits obtainable from the Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivors Benefits Act are more liberal than terms granted by NSLI and USGLI.

The Bulletin states that completion of VA Form 9-5782 (Request for Information/Action on Section 622 Waiver) in the vast majority of cases would be to the "best interest of Marine and his survivors."

The Veterans Administration has told the Marine Corps that no request for action has been received on about half of the in-service insurance policies currently under waiver. Requests to cancel the waiver of premium from servicemen overseas is "considerably below expectations."

Positive action toward obtaining the necessary forms and making insurance arrangements rests solely with the individual Marine. K-Bay personnel are urged to take stock of their insurance status. Some Marines might be unaware that they are carrying NSLI under waiver of premiums. Filling out the form specified above also determines the evidence of any insurance from the VA.

Further details may be found in the Bulletin.

On June 10, 1871, U. S. Marines under Rear Admiral John Rodgers, USN landed for the first time in Korea.

Eversharp XV Held Today

K-Bay personnel today joined the Hawaiian Defense Command Drill Alert and Command Post Exercise.

The exercise, titled Eversharp XV is designed to: test the air raid system now established in the 14th Naval District; to conduct joint training as it pertains to staff action, communications and mutual assistance in emergency recovery measures; and to provide a training exercise that will test emergency recovery units to determine what deficiencies exist and the necessary action that must be taken to correct them.

Command centers were manned at 7:30 this morning and a simulated nuclear detonation was set off later in the morning. Emergency Recovery Sections were sent into action following the simulated explosion.

A roving sound truck passed the alarm of the "atomic explosion" to test the air raid alarm system and both military and civilian personnel filed into air raid shelters.

The exercise is expected to secure about 7:45 this evening.

All officers and enlisted personnel will be afforded an opportunity to present their personal problems or to obtain information from the senior inspector while he is on the post. Forms for this request must be not required to be filled out in advance and may be obtained from the administrative inspector at the time of request mast. Request mast will be held at a time and place to be announced as soon after the start of the inspection as possible.

A firm itinerary of the IG team was not available at press time. Specific details regarding the inspection are expected to be explained at the 2 p.m. conference Wednesday.
