

Officer Retraining Program Outlined

The Marine Corps needs lieutenant colonels and majors to retrain in the engineer and motor transport fields.

Volunteers are needed for lieutenant colonels with MOS 0302, 0802, or 1802 for retraining in MOS 1302 or 3502, and from majors with MOS 0302 or 0802 for retraining in MOS 1302.

Officers selected for retraining will attend an engineer or motor transport course at the Marine Base, Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. The courses, approximately six weeks long, will be conducted during the fourth quarter, February, 1968.

Upon completion of a directed tour in the new MOS, the officer may decide whether or not to retain the MOS.

Volunteers for retraining are requested to submit applications to the Commandant of the Marine Corps as soon as possible, but no later than February 15, 1968. Commanding officers should include a recommendation in their endorsements as to the aptitude of the officer for retraining in the requested MOS. Details appear in Marine Corps Bulletin 1210 of December 26.

Don't wait - donate! "The life you save might be your own."

February 16 Deadline Set For 1968 LDO Applications

February 16 is the deadline for Marine Corps warrants and NCO's to apply for the 1968 limited duty officer program. A board meets in March to select applicants. Last year the Corps selected 137 warrant officers for LDO lieutenant and 75 staff NCOs for second lieutenant.

The quotas are expected to be a little smaller this year, but no figure has been announced.

At the same time, the Corps has announced a February 20 deadline for Reservists to apply for augmentation into the Regulars. The board meets in March.

Year groups to be considered run from 1957 to 1966 except for 1962, and only aviators are eligible from year groups 1960 and 1961.

Four new MOSs were added to the 33 eligible last year for the LDO program. For warrant officers, the minimum service for eligibility is 10 years and the maximum is 14. Last year there was not a maximum.

For staff NCOs the range of eligibility is the same as last year --- at least 15 years but no more than 23 years.

Temporary officers who permanent status is warrant are warrants for purposes of eligibility. Temporary officers and temporary warrants whose permanent status is enlisted are eligible as NCOs.

The warrants will be appointed as LDO temporary 1st Lieutenants (or above if serving in a higher grade) and may go as high as lieutenant colonel. The non-com selectees will become temporary second lieutenants LDOs except that those who are already temporary officers will be appointed with grade and date of rank that they have at the new appointments.

The staff NCOs will not become permanent LDOs and can go as high as captain.

In the list of eligible MOSs 4010, 5907, 5970, and 6302 are new. The others are the same as last year. Only warrants may apply for those that are starred, and officers picked for those with double stars won't go beyond captain.

Here are the MOSs:

C-54 Transport Hits Mountain 17 Marines, Two Navymen Killed

QUANTICO, Va., Jan. 11 -- A four engine C-54 transport from the Marine Corps Air Station here crashed into a mountain about 100 air miles west of Elko, Nev., late Wednesday afternoon, killing all 19 aboard.

When the aircraft left Quantico on Jan. 8, it carried a crew of seven and 12 members of the Amphibious Warfare Presentation Team (AWPT) as well as one passenger going on leave.

The AWPT was scheduled to spend 10 days at various western military bases, presenting an amphibious operations problem dealing with limited warfare. The team's first stop was Lowry Air Force Base, near Denver, Colo., with presentations scheduled thereafter for Seattle, Wash.; Treasure Island, Marine Corps Air Station El Toro, and Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton, in California.

The team made its Lowry presentation and the C-54 took off from nearby Buckley Air National Guard Base at 11:44 a.m. (all times EST), on Jan. 10 bound for Seattle. The AWPT was to be returned here after the Camp Pendleton appearance.

At 4:50 p.m. on Wednesday, the Salt Lake City (Utah) Air Traffic Control Center lost radio and radar contact. A search was launched immediately, but when the plane was not spotted by 11:44 p.m., at which time its fuel supply would have been exhausted, it was declared missing.

Crewmen aboard the plane when it took off from Quantico were:

Annual Family Housing Survey

It is that time of year again when all male military personnel with dependents entitled to BAQ have the opportunity to provide personal information data to support projects for construction of new family housing. The results of the annual family housing survey are used by top departmental levels for decision making and in support of new construction of family housing and other housing projects in the five year program.

The co-operation of all personnel and their dependents is requested in order to obtain the necessary reliable survey information. Data supplied on the questionnaire is considered confidential in nature and will not be used for any other purpose.

When you are contacted by a survey monitor, be prepared to furnish such information as: social security number, address, year of birth of children or dependents other than wife, type of government family quarters you reside in, distance from your residence (one way) to duty station, travel time (one way), average monthly rent or mortgage and cost of utilities. All information supplied will be for conditions as of January 31, 1968, (i.e., where you are residing with or without your family).

By Chaplain M. E. Fite

There are some things that build the individual and a nation that like the noble diamond never lose their real value, even though looked upon by those most lacking in these qualities as being unpopular. Nevertheless, it's the stuff that makes life worth living. This is conveyed very well in an article I read from Navy News, and whoever wrote it said something noteworthy.

"Another of the good old words has gone the way of love, and modesty, and patriotism. Something to be snickered over, or outright laughed at. Why, it used to be that there was no higher compliment you could pay a man than to call him a "Square Shooter."

The ad-man's promise of a "square deal" once was as binding as an oath on the Bible; but today, a square is a guy who volunteers when he doesn't have to. He's a guy who gets his kicks from trying to do a job better than anyone elses.

He's a boob who gets so lost in his work, he has to be reminded to go home. He hasn't learned to cut corners or goof off. This nut we call a square gets all choked up when he hears children singing 'My Country 'Tis Of Thee.' He even believes in God, and says so in public.

Some of the old squares were Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, George Washington, Ben Franklin. Some of the new squares are Glenn, Shephard, Carpenter, Cooper, Schirra, and Young. John Glenn says he gets a funny feeling down inside when he sees the flag go by, says he's proud he belonged to the Boy Scouts and the YMCA. How square can you get?

A square is a guy who lives within his means, whether the Joneses do or not, and thinks his Uncle Sam should too. He doesn't want to 'fly now and pay later.'

A square is a guy who reads the Scripture when nobody's listening, he wants to see America first in everything; he believes in honoring mother and father and "do unto others." He thinks he knows more than his teenager about cars, freedom, and curfew.

So, will all of you who answer this description, please stand up; you misfits in this brave, new age; you dismally disorganized age; you dismally disorganized, improperly apologetic ghosts of the past -- stand up?

Stand up and be counted. You squares who turn the wheels and dig the fields, and move mountains, and put rivets in our dreams; you squares who dignify the human race; you squares who held the thankless world in place."

From the VINE

By Maccine Titus
A new book by Gordon Brook-Shepherd is here and a compelling one too, "Eferding Diaries."

When Stephen Lane, American, wealthy, sophisticated; was permitted to read the private diary of an Austrian aristocrat set down almost half a century ago, he fell upon a record of treason and perversion.

The discovery confronted him with a devastating dilemma. By using it, he could free the enchanting wife of a stuffy British diplomat for what he had every reason to believe would be her happiness and his own.

But could he use his secret knowledge without violation all the rules of honor and integrity?

The act which solved the dilemma was performed with a sort of suave brutality. Betrayal, Stephen found, was not confined to past history...

Set in Vienna and the mountains and vales of Austria during the Four Power Occupation, the novel can be read on several levels; as a tale of espionage, international intrigue and blackmail; or as a subtle psychological study of a singularly fortunate young man suddenly subjected to extraordinary moral pressures.

Whatever the approach may be, The Eferding Diaries make compelling reading, not easily put aside, or easily forgotten.

These people...Austrian aristocrats, Russian politicians, the British and American international set, the incorrigibly gay citizens of Vienna, the huntsmen and the warm-hearted people of the countryside...are portrayed in realistic and vivid detail.

Household Items Available At 30% Discount By MCX

The problem is that you are interested in refurbishing your home, but the Marine Exchange doesn't have an inventory of home-furnishings. Or maybe the problem is that you would like $1,000 worth of jelly-beans and the exchange doesn't have that many on hand. Possibly, you are shopping for a diamond ring and all they have at the exchange are Sparkle - True while you were looking for something in the economical but hard to find Glass-Glitter line.

Whether your problem be an inability to locate the brand name you prefer, a desire for a more or less costly item than you can find in stock, or a total lack of the type goods you are looking for, you still have the opportunity to procure your goods through the exchange at money-saving exchange prices - via special order.

As Mr. Francis Femia, exchange merchandise manager, states it, "The objective of the Marine Corps Exchange is to furnish merchandise for authorized patrons at the lowest possible prices and still provide funds for the Station Special Services program." Since it is impossible for the exchange to handle all brands of goods in all sizes, shapes and costs, the special order service is a continuation of the exchange objective.

The only monetary limit placed on a special order is that it be no less than $5 and no more than $1,000. With nearly every brand-name product in the world on its ordering lists the special order department is a veritable wonderland for the military buyer. Such items as sterling silver, carpets, motorcycles, lumber and building supplies, built-in appliances and household furniture - all items not stocked by the exchange - and the same products exhibited at the exchange, in a variety of brand names, are available.

The next time you are looking for an item and are unable to find it in the exchange but can find it in a civilian store, remember special order and the 20 to 30 per cent savings.

We Get Letters....

Dear Col. Moran,

I ride bikes a lot but I am starting to give it up, because cars are beeping at me. I try to follow the rules but the cars make it hard for me. The cars scare me to death. Will you make a rule telling cars not to beep but just go around us?

Sincerely yours,
John Mc C. Henry

A/AMM/ank

John Mc C. Henry
1721 Lawrence Road
Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station
FPO San Francisco 96615

Dear John:

Thank you for your letter concerning the beeping of automobile horns and how it disrupts young bicycle riders. We have had a number of people looking into this problem and find, as usual, there are two sides to the story. I find that many people, particularly mothers, do not beep their horns at young bicycle riders for fear of scaring them, while many others beep their horn merely to let the bicycle rider know there is a car approaching from the rear. I find that very often I beep the horn because, like many others, I am never certain which way the bicycle rider will dart.

Your letter has served a useful purpose in bringing this matter to our attention and we will put an article in the Windward Marine. In the article we will stress safety above all, as well as a few guidelines for bicycle riders and motorists.

As you know, we do discourage children riding their bicycles to school before 0730. The reason for this is the heavy automobile traffic of people going to work and the fact that school does not commence until 0800. I also receive complaints from motorists about too many children being on the street at this period. I am sorry that we cannot put out a rule prohibiting the beeping of horns, but we are trying to educate both bicycle riders and motorists as well.

Sincerely,
A. M. MORAN
Colonel, U. S. Marine Corps
Commanding

Editor's Note: Rules and regulations for bicycle riders are on page 4. A similar article appeared in the September 29 issue of the Windward Marine.

Alien Registration Due In January

All aliens in the United States and its possessions are reminded by the Immigration and Naturalization Service to register their addresses during January 1968.

Addresses should be reported to the United States Attorney General. Cards on which to submit the reports are available at all U. S. post offices during the month of January, or any time at the Immigration and Naturalization Office. The cards should be filled out and returned to the clerk from whom received.

Aliens temporarily absent from the United States during the month of January must report their addresses within 10 days of return to this country.

The Immigration and Nationality Act provides serious penalties for willful failure to submit the report. This requirement is, therefore, important to all aliens in the U.S. Armed Forces and to members of the Armed Forces with relatives who are not citizens of this country.

Legislative Action on Defense Subjects

First Session - 90th Congress

The Defense Department has announced 22 bills enacted into law during the first session of the 90th Congress.

These legislative actions on Defense subjects are:

- P.L. 90-5, FY67 Supplemental Defense Procurement, RDT&E, and Construction Authorization.
This legislation authorized the appropriation of an additional $4.48 billion for the support of military operations in Southeast Asia during FY67—some $81 million more than requested.
- P.L. 90-8, FY67 Supplemental Defense Appropriation.
To support Southeast Asia operations, a supplemental request of $12.74 billion for FY67 was submitted to Congress in January. An appropriation bill for $12.197 billion was enacted in March.
- P.L. 90-22, FY68 Defense Procurement and RDT&E Authorizations.
Authorization in the amount of $21.964 billion was requested by the Administration. Although Congress eliminated the Fast Deployment Logistics Ship (FDLS) program, additions for various purposes raised the final authorization to $21.169 billion.
- P.L. 90-96, FY68 Defense Appropriation.
Congress appropriated $69,827 million—$1.647 billion below the budget request. Certain reprogramming actions will be required to permit the Defense Department to go forward with all essential programs and to preserve the war effort in accordance with current objectives and operational plans.
- P.L. 90-110, FY68 Military Construction Authorization.
The Department of Defense request for FY68 military construction authorization amounted to $2.6 billion. Congress authorized $2.8 billion.
- P.L. 90-180, FY68 Military Construction Appropriation.
A total of $2.1 billion was appropriated—$248 million below the budget request. While certain projects will be deferred, all critical construction projects can be carried out.
- P.L. 90-137, Foreign Assistance Authorization Act, FY68.
Defense requested $600 million for military assistance programs (MAP) for FY68, of which $318 million was authorized. Amendments to the bill placed restrictions on credit sales and abolished the military credit revolving fund effective June 30, 1968.
- P.L. 90-1, Foreign Assistance Appropriation Act, FY68.
This legislation provides $400 million for MAP. The budget request was for $620 million. Amendments restrict the use of funds to higher sales to underdeveloped countries which purchase certain sophisticated weapons.
- will have the effect of assuring greater equity for those subject to a military obligation. For example, individuals who have received undergraduate college student deferments will not be in a position to "pyramid" their deferments through subsequent extended graduate study or through additional deferments on the grounds of fatherhood. The law also makes possible a revision in the order of selection for induction to permit calling of men in the 18 or 19 year age group before older age groups, should this be necessary.
- P.L. 90-207, To Increase the Basic Pay for Members of the Uniformed Services.
Authorizes a 5.6 percent increase in basic pay, retroactive to October 1, 1967, for all members of the uniformed services.
- P.L. 90-130, To Remove Restrictions on the Careers of Female Officers in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.
Eliminates restrictions resulting from previous laws and places the careers of women officers under the same general standards that apply to the careers of male officers in the same service.
- P.L. 90-168, To Strengthen the Reserve Components of the Armed Forces.
This Act, which provides for the organization and management of the Reserve Forces, was passed by the House of Representatives Committee. It authorizes an increase in the number of Assistant Secretaries in each of the military departments—a provision which DoD sponsored and supported.
- P.L. 90-135, To Authorize Sale to Private Ownership of Alaska Communications Facilities.
This Act gives the Secretary of Defense authority to sell or lease the civilian-oriented, defense-owned communications facilities in Alaska. The facilities, which were established by the Army, have served civilian as well as military needs from Territorial days. This legislation will permit the return to private enterprise of what is essentially a civilian use operation. It is expected that the facilities will be disposed of within two years.
- P.L. 90-224, Authorization for Loan of Naval Vessels to Foreign Countries.
Authorizes the extension of existing loans of some 25 Naval vessels to ten foreign countries for a period of five years (with discretionary provision for Presidential extension for another five years) and the loan of additional vessels to the Republic of Korea and to the Republic of China.
- P.L. 90-110, To Authorize Retraction of Jurisdiction over Lands Containing the United States Naval Ma-
- siding in two Navy housing projects constructed on parcels of land now a part of the Naval Station at Long Beach.
- P.L. 90-126, Rynkys Islands Economic Assistance Authorization.
Increased from $12 million to $11.5 million the amount authorized to be appropriated in any one fiscal year for economic and social development in the Rynkys Islands.
- P.L. 90-1, To Permit Storage of Missing Persons' Household Effects for a Period of One Year or Longer.
Authorizes the Secretary of the Military Departments to arrange for non-temporary storage of household goods and personal effects of a member of the Armed Forces who has been declared absent for more than 29 days in a missing-in-action status.
- P.L. 90-1, To Simplify Laws Relating to Members of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.
Eliminates variations in service personnel laws for which there is no identifiable need or justification, thus making the laws applicable to the military services more uniform. No substantive changes in existing laws were made.
- P.L. 90-1, To Extend Privilege of Free Entry of Gifts from Overseas.
Provides for the extension through December 31, 1969 of the existing $10 duty-free gift mailing privilege for members of the Armed Forces serving in a combat zone.
- P.L. 90-1, To Amend Section 409 of Title 37, U.S.C. Relating to the Transportation of House Trailers and Mobile Dwellings.
Provides for payment of the cost of commercial transportation of house trailers or mobile dwellings owned by members of the uniformed services up to an amount not to exceed the cost of transporting the member's authorized weight allowance for household goods and baggage over a like distance, and provides for payment of a dislocation allowance in connection with such movements.
- P.L. 90-228, To Amend Title 10 U.S.C. Relating to the Authorized Strength by Grade for Medical and Dental Officers on Active Duty in the Army, Navy and Air Force.
Permits each military department secretary to determine the grade authorizations for medical and dental officers of his department based on service requirements.
- P.L. 90-1, To Allow a Member of the Armed Forces to Accumulate More Than 90 Days' Leave Under Certain Conditions.
Permits members of the Armed Forces to accumulate more than 90 days' leave.

And The Rains Came...

Hawaii, the land of liquid sunshine, has once again liquidated some of its assets; K-Bay being the recipient of the goods.

So if your patio is under water or the street in front of your house is now a waterway, it's due to 2.11 inches of "liquid sunshine" dropped on K-Bay Jan. 16. Considering the forecast of

Delaney Leads HawMar's To 92-82 Win Over Hickam

High scoring Tom Delaney proved his worthiness for being selected All-Marine three times as he paced the Hawaii Marine Basketball team with 36-points in their 92-82 victory over the tough Hickam Flyers Tuesday night at Hangar 103.

The Marines looked like a revitalized team, a far cry from what their 7-14 record shows, coming back after Hickam held a slight first quarter advantage to take the lead midway through the second period. HawMar fans had something to cheer about as the Marine cagers went into half-time leading 45-40.

Starting second half action off, Hickam tried to surprise the Hawaii Marine cagers with a full-court press, but the fast running Marine club showed no signs of wilting under the pressure, building even a further lead. Hickam's Naaman Foster and HawMar Tom Delaney, meanwhile, were having a slugfest for scoring honors. Both wound up with 18 points in the second half.

A total of 41 fouls were committed during the game with the Marines hitting 22 of 29 tries for a 75-percent at the "charity stripe."

Delaney's 36-point total and his season high copped the game scoring honors, followed by Jim Hayslip with 17. Ted Miller hit 14-points with Al Clay popping the nets in double figures with

K-Bay's Trotters, Chargers Cop Youth Cage Victories

Two K Bay Youth Basketball teams came out on top last Saturday in action in the Armed Services Youth Basketball League.

The Trotters, playing in the Junior Division, evened their record to two wins against the same number of setbacks, by swamping the Fort Shafter entry 41-30.

Trotter cagers kept the Shafter quintet trailing all the way, pressuring their opponents and forcing them to make mistakes and turnovers.

Terry Stadler ripped the nets with 21 points to lead all scorers, followed by Bob Keister with 10 points.

Tomorrow, the Trotters hit the hardwood at home against Pearl Harbor in play beginning at 11 a.m.

In other youth play, the K-Bay Chargers, Pee Wee entrants in the Armed Services League, squeaked out a 18-14 win over the Wheeler AFB Falcons.

Both teams played nip and tuck all the way with the Chargers pulling ahead 13-11 at the start of the fourth quarter. Mark Wahlstrom tanked eight points for the winners with Lee Greg notching six points.

The Chargers now sporting a 3-1 record, play a Fort Shafter entry at Hangar 103 tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Woods & Waters

By Ron Harwood

Many of us combine photography with another hobby, particularly when we like to fish, hunt, hike or anything else that has to do with the outdoors (like girl watching maybe).

However, outdoor photography is an art all its own, and the results we get often leave quite a bit to be desired. Many things, most of them minor, can combine forces so that the photograph we're seeking ends up a "fuzzygraph." We don't intend to make this a photo column and go into a lot of technical talk that none of us will really understand, but would like to pass on a couple tips that might help clear up a picture or two.

In the first place, if you've got a telephoto lens, use it. If not, get as close to your subject as possible. When photographing wildlife, this involves a lot of patience and knowledge of the habits of the bird or animal you want a picture of. Many times we think we've got a great shot but when the film is developed, the subject's image is so small that it can't be identified with a magnifying glass.

That you should use the correct exposure goes without saying. If you have a meter or use one of the automatic cameras, great, the guesswork is taken out of it and normally you'll come up with a good picture as far as exposure is concerned. If you're shooting over sand or water, and don't have a meter, close down at least one stop (for example, from f11 go to f16) from what you'd use in a normal situation. This will help compensate for the added light reflected from the surface of the water or sand.

Shutter speed depends on the situation. One word of advice though, the majority of us are unable to hand-hold a camera steady enough to shoot at speeds less than 1/60th. Camera movement can blur everything in a picture.

Water, particularly salt water or spray, can raise heck with a camera and its lens. One drop on a lens will diffuse the image and the result will be a real "fuzzygraph." Also, a camera is a delicate instrument and susceptible to corrosion. Use a plastic bag or oilskin to protect it when it's not in use and there might be a chance of it getting wet.

Heat is another enemy of photographers. It can fog film in a camera, soften emulsion and cause camera lubricants to run and clog up shutters. So, try to keep your gear in a cool place or at least in the shade as much as possible.

Cameras, like women and automobiles, are a matter of personal preference, almost all cameras will produce good pictures if used properly. Like any other piece of your equipment, learn its capabilities and limitations, and it'll produce many hours of enjoyment.

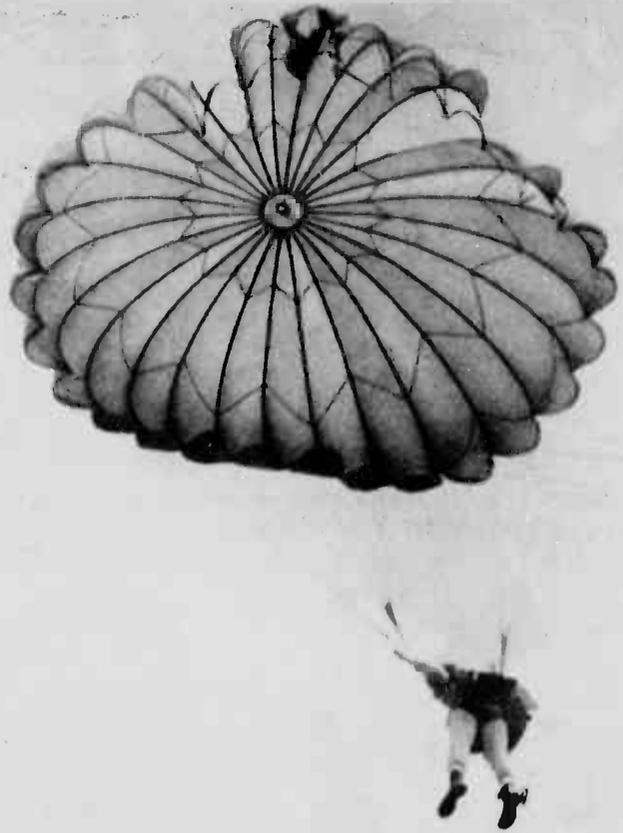

Rod and Gun Club members are reminded that the next meeting (Tuesday, Jan. 23) will be a working affair at the site of the "Sportsman I." See all of you there.

Smoker Slated February 2 Pugilists Needed For Bouts

Hangar 103 will again be the setting as the first smoker of 1968 will be slated on February 2, 1968. The same type of action is expected in February as the last smoker event held in December, seeing pugilists from Kaneohe, Pearl Harbor, Hickam Air Force Base and the civilian AUCU compete in a 12 card night.

All classes of boxers are slated to be in the forthcoming event, fighting three, two minute rounds.

Boxers from KMCAS are invited to participate in the opening year smoker. Boxers don't need any style to fight, just stamina. All pugilists will be matched according to weight and

PLUMMETING EARTHWARD - This will be the type of action K-Bay rodeo fans will view as six parachutists from the K-Bay Sports Parachute Club open the weekend rodeo with a free fall exhibition.

Free-Fall Exhibition Slated In '68 Rodeo Season Opener

Fans who attend the opening '68 rodeo season opener at the K-Bay Stables tomorrow and Sunday will be in for added entertainment as six jumpers from the K-Bay Sports Parachute Club open the action with a free fall exhibition at 2 p.m. each day. The 'chutists will stage a 60-second free fall, jumping from 15,000 feet with two passes over the stables area.

Following the jumping feature, riders from the Hawaiian Armed Forces Cowboys Association, will give fans plenty of thrills in bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding competition.

Also featured at the Station Special Services sponsored rodeo will be calf roping and barrel racing among the top island contenders.

The two-day spectacle is open free to all K-Bay fans and children. "Bronco" and "Bucko," K-Bay's rodeo clowns will be on hand to entertain the kids as well as keeping the brahmas from breathing down the cowboys necks.

K-Bayites Cautioned About Mailing Items

If you think your income tax burden is unbearable, wait until one of your children gets caught tampering with Uncle Sam's mail boxes.

Complaints by the Post Office Department have been received concerning items some people have been trying to mail in the boxes located in Station Housing. They will not handle rocks, toads, or pieces of wood without an address and proper postage. Matches, firecrackers, and mud will not be handled under any circumstances.

Punishment for tampering with the boxes, locks, or contents makes the offender liable to a fine of $1,000 or three years imprisonment.

Parent's cooperation in assuring that these practices are discontinued is requested by the Postal authorities. The mail boxes are placed for the convenience of the people living in the housing area and if these incidents are not stopped the boxes will be removed.

Umpires Needed

Softball and basketball umpires are needed by the Armed Forces Officials Association for the forthcoming '68 season.
